With 5 years user experience and several HubSpot certifications and client-facing experience as a sales assistant with clients like Hardman Design, I bring both technical proficiency and a client-first mindset to every project.

In my recent role as an International Marketing Manager, I've successfully managed multilingual marketing campaigns and an international team (English, French and German). I have implemented Hubspot, imported data, contributed to creating APIs to connect our CRM and set up Hubspot scoring system based on our business goals. I am familiar with Zendesk, Make, Trello and IA tools to streamline operations. My ability to deliver tailored solutions while building strong relationships makes me confident I can drive success for your global B2B clients.
